1. BACKGROUND

This is now the fourth report since the political finance legislation came into force in Western Australia on 9 November 1996 as Part VI of the Electoral Act 1907. All political parties, associated entities, individual candidates, groups and other persons are required to submit a return to the Electoral Commissioner disclosing details of gifts received and expenditure incurred for election purposes. Returns related to the 1996 election were included in the first report dated 30 June 1997.

1.1 The Essential Features of the Political Finance Legislation

Agents

All political parties must appoint an agent. Individual candidates, non-party groups and other persons may appoint an agent or accept responsibility for compliance with the Act.

Gifts

Acceptance of donations from unidentified persons or sources equal to or more than the specified amount of $1500 is prohibited under the Act. Gifts of $1500 or more must include the name and address of the person who made the gift.

Pursuant to Regulation 3(4) of the Electoral (Political Finance) Regulations 1996, the specified amount was increased to $1600 after the February 2001 State General Election. This will not take effect until 1 July 2001 and will affect the July 2001 – June 2002 disclosure returns.

Annual Disclosure Returns

All political parties and associated entities are required to lodge a return annually by 30 November, disclosing all gifts and other income received for the previous financial year.

Election-Related Disclosure Returns

Political parties are required to disclose expenditure incurred in an election.

Candidates and groups are required to disclose all gifts received and expenditure incurred during the disclosure period for the election. This ends 30 days after polling day and, for previous candidates, commences 30 days after polling day in the previous election or, for new candidates from one year prior to the day of nomination in the present election. For groups it commences from the hour of nomination.

Persons other than political parties, associated entities, candidates and groups who incur expenditure for political purposes, are required to disclose all gifts received and expenditure incurred during the disclosure period for the election. This is the same period as for previous candidates above. If the total amount of expenditure does not exceed $500, a return is not required.

Election returns must be sent to the Electoral Commissioner within 15 weeks after polling day. A penalty is prescribed for non-compliance.

1.2 The Role of the Western Australian Electoral Commissioner

The Electoral Commissioner receives all annual and election-related disclosure returns. He is empowered to check all returns, obtain any information relevant to disclosure requirements, and to interview people and scrutinise bank or other financial accounts where donations are deposited.

The returns are available 4 weeks after the required lodgement date. Annual returns are available the first working day after 28 December and election-related returns from 19 weeks after polling day.

2. POLITICAL PARTIES AND ASSOCIATED ENTITIES ANNUAL RETURNS

Annual return forms were sent to political parties and identified associated entities in June 2000. Political parties were requested to advise their associated entities to complete the necessary disclosure returns. Data provided in the above returns is included as Appendices 3-6 of this report.

A list of political parties that were recognised as at 30 June 2000 is included in Appendix 2. Identified associated entities are included in Appendix 4.

3. AUDIT OF RETURNS

The Act provides for the Electoral Commissioner to authorise officers to investigate returns that are required under Part VI. In order to avoid duplication of effort, a coordinated audit approach was arranged with the Australian Electoral Commissioner.

Audits conducted on behalf of the Electoral Commissioner identified some omissions in the disclosure of gifts and other income in the annual returns of political parties and associated entities. The auditor formed the view that these were errors of omission rather than deliberate misrepresentations and the groups concerned were asked to submit amended returns. Amended returns have been received from those concerned.

4. ACCESS TO RETURNS

The Western Australian Electoral Commission maintains copies of each political finance return. In accordance with s.175ZC of the Act, members of the public may view or obtain copies of returns. These returns are available four weeks after the end of the lodgement period. Annual returns were made available on 2 January this year because the office was closed during the Christmas/New Year period.

5. INVESTIGATION INTO COMPLIANCE WITH SECTION 175ZE OF THE ELECTORAL ACT 1907

Agencies required to publish an annual report under the Financial Administration and Audit Act 1985 or any other written law also have a reporting requirement under s.175ZE. This is to report on expenditure in relation to advertising agencies, market research organisations, polling organisations, direct mail organisations or media advertising agencies. A general lack of compliance by agencies was reported by the Office of the Auditor General in Report No. 7 of 1999.

A very significant amount of time was spent this year endeavouring to identify the relevant agencies and their level of compliance. Annual reports for public agencies were checked for compliance and where it appeared that an agency had failed to provide the relevant information, the agency was contacted and another check for compliance carried out. Where an annual report was not available to the Commission, that agency was requested to provide evidence of compliance. If an agency listed the Electoral Act 1907 as one of the legislative provisions with which it complied, or which impacted on its activities, without supplying details of expenditure relating to s.175ZE, this agency was classified as non-complying.

Appendix 7 contains extracts from the Electoral Act 1907 of ss175 and 175ZE, lists the various levels of compliance identified and provides details of agencies which did not comply.

Two issues were raised during this investigation. The first issue was that of identifying the relevant agencies to which the section applied. While the majority of agencies surveyed were clearly required to report on expenditure under s.175ZE, it appeared that several agencies may not be “public agencies” as defined in s.175. The Electoral Commissioner sought the advice of the Auditor General on their status. The advice received was that all the agencies listed below are required to report expenditure under s.175ZE of the Electoral Act 1907.

Legal Contribution Trust
Local Health Authorities Analytical Committee
Medical Board of Western Australia
Professional Standards Council
Radiological Council

Chiropractors Registration Board
Dental Board of Western Australia

Geraldton Port Authority
Port Hedland Port Authority

Some agencies provide administrative and financial support for one or more other agencies. This is particularly evident in the areas of justice and health. Where this occurs, the main agency must either report expenditure under s.175ZE for each subsidiary agency separately in its annual report, or the subsidiary agency must report expenditure under s.175ZE in its own annual report. Several of these agencies are listed in Appendix 7 among those not complying with this legislation.

The second issue was the need for clarification of the reporting requirement. A number of reporting agencies claimed difficulty in interpreting the word “advertising”. The main problem appeared to be whether “advertising” included advertising relating to the essential function of the agency, as distinct from promotion of that agency. Some agencies included expenditure on advertisements for vacant positions and some did not. These differing interpretations resulted in inconsistent reporting across agencies. Numerous requests were received from agencies for specific guidelines as to what should and should not be included in these items of expenditure.

The Electoral Commissioner sought legal advice on the interpretation of s.175ZE of the Electoral Act 1907 from the Crown Solicitor's Office. The advice received stipulated that agencies had to report all expenditure incurred by the agency in the activities listed in the five categories outlined in s.175ZE(1), not just expenditure on those items outside the normal operation of the agency.

In all cases except two, non-compliance with the Act does not appear to have been intentional. Rather, it resulted from a particular interpretation of the legislation or uncertainty by some agencies regarding their status as public agencies. Two agencies—Gold Corporation and Western Power Corporation— informed the Western Australian Electoral Commission that they would not comply with the legislation, as they felt the information requested was commercially sensitive.

6. PUBLICATIONS

The Electoral Commission has produced Guidelines for the Disclosure of Gifts, Other Income and Electoral Expenditure, in a version for candidates and groups, and one for political parties and associated entities. These outline the purpose of Political Finance legislation and the implications for persons involved in the election process. A copy of the guidelines is sent out to relevant persons at the end of each disclosure period together with a copy of the appropriate disclosure return(s). Candidates were provided with a copy of the Guidelines and relevant forms as part of the nomination process prior to the 2001 State General Election. Disclosure information relating to the State General Election will be included in the 2001 Political Finance Report which will be available next year. Copies of the guidelines and disclosure returns are also available from the Western Australian Electoral Commission on request.
